Articulate Storyline 3 Training – Proposed Syllabus

Introduction video – basic learning objectives against assessments and ways to show them instead of bullets

Basic instructional design
- Basic design layout principles (including developing for mobile – would suggest always designing for small screens first – or certainly with that in mind)

TIP: Storyboarding using PPT

User Interface & Navigation
- Opening Storyline
- Screen layout
- Story and Slide views
- Undocking panels
- Preview
- Player Design – features, menu, resources, glossary, colours, effects, text labels, size, player features at slide level

TIP: Resources – show how to refer to an attached document within the module

Slides
- Story size
- Inserting new slides and master slide templates
- Importing from PowerPoint
- Slide design and slide notes
- Animations and transitions
- Timeline
- Syncing objects to audio
- Slide properties

Slide Design
- Inserting text
- Inserting shapes

States
- Built-in states and character states

Layers
- States vs Layers
- Layers vs slides
- Adding a layer, properties, timeline

Triggers and Variables
- Adding and editing a trigger
- Trigger conditions
- Adding a variable

Media
- Inserting images and screenshots – importing and cropping
- Inserting audio – recording, importing, and editing
- Inserting video – screen recording, importing, and editing
- Inserting web objects
- Zoom region

Additional interactive elements
- Buttons, hotspots, markers, scrolling panel, mouse

Quizzes
- Questions – graded, survey, and freeform
- Feedback
- Simulation – map and building a simulation
- Importing questions, question banks, and result slides
- Remediation with lightboxes

Other interactive elements
- Buttons
- Hotspots
- Marker
- Scrolling panel
- Mouse

Publishing
- Output
- Properties
- Distributing your published courses

Bringing it all together
- Begin developing your eLearning module

Hello Sue,

Hope you are well and had a great long weekend! Did you manage to make your 'milestone' swim in the sea?! :)

Thanks for the call last Friday - as requested, below is a rough outline of what I teach during my one-to-one (max. 3 people), 2-day 'Introduction to Articulate Storyline' training sessions.

Regarding costs (and looking back at my last couple of sessions) - for the below (which is usually a maximum of 3 people) I've usually charged £275 + VAT per day. For classroom training (4 people up to approx. 10) I've usually charged £395 + VAT per day, as this involves more physical/movement activities among other things. For preparation of training materials, consultancy for preparing the courses, etc., that's charged at my usual daily rate of £200 + VAT.

I'm excited as to where this will lead, and do hope that your presentation is well and enthusiastically received!

Please let me know if you need anything else from me at this time.

Take care,
Barry